Social and Personal

The third musicale of the season at the Woman's Club given yesterday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Louise Williams, was the charming success to be expected from anything undertaken by Miss Williams.

Mrs. Mattle B. Thomas's fine soprano voice was heard with great pleasure in the numbers given by her. Mr. G. B. Gookin's rendition of the part assigned him left nothing to be desired. The statement that Miss Williams's selections of the plane were played with her accustomed skill and ease conveys the highest possible compilment that could be bestowed.

possible compilment that total be stowed.

The Steinway grand plane, the newest acquisition in club belongings, was used for the first time. It is a beautiful instrument, and the ladies of the club have every right to feel the greatest pride and pleasure over their success in having secured it.

The programme in full is herewith riven:

given:
Impromptu, op, 142, No. 3, Schubert, Miss
Williams: a. The Dew Upon the Llly,
German; b. To Possess Thee, Fairclough,
Mr. Gookins: Endymion, Lehmann, Mrs. Mr. Gookins; Endymus, the Lark, Schubert-Liszt; b. Berceuse, Chopin, Miss Williams; Sunset, Buck, Mr. Gorkins; a. If I could steal Your Wings, Hill; b. Absence, Little; c. At Parting, Rogers, Mrs.

Thomas.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Henry A. Williams, and chocolate by Miss Roberta Z. Allen. During the social hour, Miss Zelle Minor played, at the request of several of her friends, some beautiful soft airs, snatches from operas and from different great composers. She had a group of listeners gathered around her and others, though engaged in conversation, paused time and again to listen and admire.

LABOR IS WORSHIP.

By FRANCES S. OSGOOD.

ces Sargent Osgood was born in Boston, Mass., June 18, 1811, and died in m. Mass., May 12, 1856. Her father, Joseph Locke, was a Boston merchart, hers-fif lived at Hingham. From her childhood she showed marked literart, in 1835 she married Samuel Stillman Osgood, a portrait painter, and thereafter to London, where she wrote for the English magazines.

AUSE not to dream of the future before us;
Praise not to weep the wild cares that come o'er us;
Hark, how Creation's deep, musical chorus,
Unintermitting, goes up into heaven!
Never the ocean wave faiters in flowing;
Never the little seed stops in its growing;
Nove and more richly the rose heart keeps glowing,
Till from its nourishing stem it is riven.

"Labor is worship!"—the robin is singing;
"Labor is worship!"—the wild bee is ringing;
"Listen! that eloquent whisper unspringing
Speaks to thy soul from out Nature's great heart,
From the dark cloud flows the life-giving shower;
From the rough sod blows the soft-breathing flower;
From the small insect, the rich coral bower;
Only man, in the plan, ever shrinks from his part.

Labor is life! 'Tis the still water faileth; Idleness ever despaireth, bewalleth; Keep the watch wound, for the dark rust assaileth; Flowers droop and die in the stillness of noon,
Labor is glory!—the flying cloud lightens;
Only the waving wing changes and brightens;
Idle hearts only the dark future frightens;
Play the sweet keys, wouldst thou keep them in tune.

Labor is rest from the sorrows that greet us,
Rest from all petty vexations that meet us,
Rest from sin promptings that ever entreat us,
Rest from world sirens that lure us to ill.
Work—and pure slumbors shall wait on thy pillow;
Work—thou shalt ride over Care's coming billow;
Lie not down wearled 'neath Woe's weeping willow;
Work with a steat heart and resolute will: Work with a stout heart and resolute will!

Labor is health! Lo! the husbandman reaping. How through his veins goes the life current leaping! How his strong arm, in its stalwart pride sweeping. True as a sunbeam the swift sickle guides. Labor is wealth! In the sea the pearl groweth; Rich the queen's robe from the frail cocoon floweth; From the fine acorn the strong forest bloweth; Temple and statue the marble block hides.

Droop not, though shame, sin, and anguish are round thee;
Bravely fling off the cold chain that hath bound thee;
Look to you pure heaven smilling beyond thee;
Rest not content in thy darkness—a clod.
Work for some good, be it ever so slowly;
Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly;
Labor! all labor is noble and holy;
Let thy great deeds be thy prayer to thy God.

FINE WORK AT MARKETS

Splendid Report to be Made to Finance Committee as to Permanent Improvements.

MORE THAN MET PROMISE

The Market Committee Returns Money and Makes Revenues. Wants of Committees.

Perhaps no committee of the City Council has done better with the money allotted it in the last annual budget than that on Markets, and Chairman R. L. Peters had a most flattering detailed report of the year's work to lay before the body last night, had there been a quorum of members at the called meeting. The report, along with the wants for the present year, is to be passed uron by the Market Committee and forwarded to the Finance Committee for budget.

The committee has been called to meet o-night, and will likely get a quorum, when the following list of wants will be forwarded to the Pinance Commit

SECOND MARKET.

As to the report of the Market Committee for the past year's work, the situation may be summed up in a line. The committee asked for $0.000, additional appropriation for permanent improvements, promising to return all the money in two years, and increase the revenues from the First and Second Markets, where the improvements were proposed to be made. They did better. The money was returned within one year; the improvements made, and the revenues largely increased.

MR. PETERS'S REPORT. The report, which Chairman Peters will lay before his committee to-night, is

The report, which Chairman Peters will lay before his committee to-night, is as follows:

Jinuary 25, 1904.

To the Chairman and Members of the Committee on Finance of the City of Richmond:

Gentlemen,—In making up the budget for 1903 the Committee on Markets asked an extra appropriation of $6,900 to make certain improvements at the First and Second Market, mamely: $2,800 for the First, Markets, mamely: $2,800 for the First, Markets, mamely: $2,800 for the First, Markets, and after a thorough explanation of the contemplated plans and improvements by the chairman of the Committee on Markets, which would provide the amount mentioned above that the Committee on Markets would provide the amount mentioned above that the Committee on Markets would return to the city the $3,800 asked for at the Second Market and a portion of that asked for at the First Market in probably one year, and not less than two years, and leave a permanent improvement at the said markets, which would create a source of permanent income to the city.

Your honorable committee, after the above statement, saw fit to provide the amount asked for, and I think it a duty we owe to your honorable committee and the city of Richmond to report as to the expenditures of the amounts asked for for repairing and repainting the entire market houses inside and out, and the city of Richmond to report as to the expenditures of the amount asked for, and we, therefore, submit the following:

AT FIRST MARKET.

At the First Market 24,000 was asked for for repairing and repainting the entire market houses inside and out, and the other $400 to change the entrance to the hall and enlarge the two present stalls fronting Main Street, which before these improvements paid to the city only $20 per month for the two. The committee market houses inside and out, and the other $400 to change the two present stalls fronting Main Street, which before these improvements paid to the city only $20 per month, instead of $20, as heretofore, thereby paying to the city every year a net i

The entire market was thoroughly repaired and repainted, which was absolutely necessary for the preservation and cleanliness of the market. There will be an additional revenue from other stall rents from the fixing of a minimum rate of rent, so that the rent of no stall will be less than $3 per month. The number of stalls so increased have been reported by the clerk to be $194.80 per year.

WORK AT SECOND.

Atter completing the above work the committee will have a bylance to return to the city from the First Market of $1,207.13.

At the Second Market the following sums were asked for, namely: For the iron shed, $1,200; rearranging the butcher market and enlarging the size of stalls, building new stalls, etc., $1,600; repairing and repainting the butcher and vegetable murkets, $1,000, making the amount of $3,800 asked for.

The committee creeted the iron shed on the line of Sixth Street, from Marshall to Pink Alley, at the cost of $1,273. By erecting this shed the committee was able to add ten new stulls to the market, at a rental of $30 per month, making $20 per year. In addition to this, the privices to occupy these stalls, was put of premiums, except $68 and $300 paid for the erecting of the stalls.

The butcher market was entirely rearranged, all the stalls being market and their former size, and harbid on large asis through the center, Instead of two, as heretofore.

The committee also put 'n electric lights and repaired and repained throughout here former size, and harbid on a large of the stalls on an average of $1 per month, making $1,200 per year, addition, therefore increasing the revenus on the 19 stalls on an average of the stalls on an average of $1 per month, and repaired and repaired throughout, and a new cert's office, etc., were added, 14 our reassessment of stalls in the vegetable market, with addition of $1,500 per year, and making the above increase of stalls, which makes an increase on stall rent in the vegetable market of about $98 per month, an of rease on stall rent in the vegetable marke

HENRICO AFFAIR HAS BEEN SETTLED

Mr. Brauer Will Turn Over Everything to His Successor.

Cessor.

The long-discussed treasurership muddle of Henrico county is a muddle no longer. The various and sundry complications in connection with the matter have been removed at last, and things will sail smoothly from this time on.

The status of the matter was definitely set out yesterday at a conference held at the courthouse between Judge Wickham, Commonwealth's Attorney Wendenburg, Treasurer Todd and ex-Treasurer Brauer. The decision of the Commonwealth's Attorney was sustained. Mr. Brauer was instructed to turn over to his successor all books, papers, tax bills, etc., as soon as he can make a list of them, which will be in about three weeks.

Mr. Brauer will comply with these instructions. He will collect no more taxes, Treasurer Todd will give him a receipt for everything turned over.
